

UK Architects database

If you want to target the building industry you need to contact architects

The Insight database of UK Architects

Never before has the need to target architects been so important. The Insight database is constructed of over 15,626 architects in 8,709 practices who operate across the building industry.

Gain a competitive advantage by communicating directly with architects early in the design stage, introduce CPD programmes or raise awareness of your products or services.

Insight Data's research team are continuously updating contacts and information. Target top-level sectors such as housing, education or health, then drill down to select architects that operate in sub-sectors such as private or social housing, schools or universities, hospitals or surgeries.

Updated in real-time, this is the most accurate and relevant database of architects available in the UK and is ideal for direct mail, email campaigns, telesales and sales follow-up.
