

INSOLVENCY REPORT

A closer look at company insolvencies across the glazing & wider construction industry.

EDITOR'S NOTE

Welcome to the ninth edition of Insight Data's monthly Insolvency Report, including essential insights and statistics reflecting the ongoing changes within the glazing and construction industries.

In September, we are seeing a mixed set of results for insolvency rates. While numbers are continuing to rise, they are doing so at a much slower rate compared to August. For instance, for builders' merchants there were just 14 insolvencies in September, down from 36 the previous month, while main contractors experienced an incredible drop of 73 per cent with just three insolvencies in September, as opposed to 11 in August.

Unfortunately for architects, September's insolvency rate has increased from 19 in August to 25. The fenestration industry also saw a slight rise in numbers with insolvencies jumping from 87 in August to 90 in September. The opposite was true for local builders of whom 106 local builders went into insolvency in September, as opposed to 133 going bust the previous month.

Combine this data with the collapse of construction giant ISG in the middle of September and it's fair to say the future of the industry is still uncertain. However, there is a solution for companies operating within these challenging market conditions. As a leading marketing data supplier, we support the glazing and construction industries with up-to-date intelligence that helps navigate difficult times like these. Use our data and insights to identify new opportunities, strengthen your position in the market or safeguard your business in the rapidly changing market.
